

SUJAN CHAUDHARY

FRONTEND DEVELOPER

I have been working in web development for almost a year now. During this time, I have explored various aspects of the field and have developed a diverse skill set. I love problem-solving and creating new things. I am now seeking an internship to enhance my skills and gain real-world experience working with a team. I am excited about the prospect of learning from others and exploring different approaches to building unique products. Ultimately, my goal is to continue developing my skills and creating innovative products.
